About Exams 230 / 240

Postal Service Exams 230 / 240 are somewhat confusing in that their primary focus is to determine either your driving record or your ability to drive safely and correctly. The first part of this exam is really a questionnaire that you simply answer based upon your personal driving history. The Postal Service refers to this as an exam, but it isn't a traditional exam, it is more of a questionnaire. The Postal Service sometimes uses these exams interchangeably for the various driving jobs. However, the "exams" are practically identical, so don't be confused when you see one of these exams listed for a driving position.

For the driving history questionnaire, obviously there are no right or wrong answers. However, do NOT be tempted to exaggerate your driving history information. When called in for an interview, you are usually asked to document your answers to the driving history questionnaire.

There is really only one way to prepare for this "exam" and that is to gather all of your documents for your driving history or at least write down ahead of time your driving history information.

Read the questions carefully. Be sure you know what the questions are about and then answer the questions in the way you are told to. If you are told the answer to a question, be sure you understand why the answer is right.

Write your answers to the questions, on the line provided below each question.

Questions 1 & 2 are about picture 1, below. Look at the picture.

Picture 2

Questions 4 & 5 are about pictures of oil cans. Each picture has a letter. You are to tell what each picture shows by writing a short description of the picture on the answer line that goes with the question.

Now look at the picture X.

4. What does picture X show?

Picture X shows two oil cans. So you should have written something like “two oil cans” on the line under question 4.

5. What does picture Y show?

Question 6 is about words that might appear on a traffic sign.

Write the letter of the line that means the same as the numbered line in the answer space.

In answering the next questions you may look back to what you have already written as often as you wish. In the actual test, the pictures and their questions will be taken away from you before you mark the answer sheet, but you will keep what you wrote about the pictures while marking the answer sheet. So for this practice, try not to look at the pictures but look at what you wrote about them.
